

Decisioneering Welcomes Aon/Rath & Strong to its Six Sigma Partner Program

Denver, June 20, 2006 -- Decisioneering®, Inc., an innovator of software and services for risk analysis and optimization, today announced that Rath & Strong, a leading global provider of Lean Six Sigma and Six Sigma solutions, has joined Decisioneering's Crystal Ball Six Sigma Partner Program. With this agreement, Rath & Strong will work with Decisioneering to promote the use of Crystal Ball® simulation and optimization tools throughout its Six Sigma initiatives.

Celebrating more than 70 years of pioneering innovations in process improvement methodologies and tools, Rath & Strong has helped companies worldwide achieve lasting change with advances in operations, leadership, culture and customer connection. Rath & Strong helped invent Six Sigma at Motorola, was at GE Capital when Six Sigma was applied to services for the first time across the board, and pioneered the integration of Lean and statistical-based process improvement methodologies.

"We are excited to bring Crystal Ball into our consulting and training engagements around the world," said Dan Quinn, CEO and president, Rath & Strong. "We are always looking to bring our clients the best tools and solutions, like Crystal Ball, to help solve their problems."

Decisioneering's Crystal Ball line of Microsoft® Excel-based analytical software is used by thousands of businesses in industries ranging from Six Sigma, oil and gas, financial services and pharmaceuticals to assist individuals and organizations in making more informed business decisions. In 2002, Decisioneering launched its Six Sigma Partner Program, a co-marketing effort that provides consultants who practice Six Sigma, Lean Six Sigma and DFSS with materials and assistance for their Crystal Ball training and implementation.

"Rath & Strong will help bring the power of simulation and optimization to Global 1,000 clients across the globe," said Lawrence Goldman, director of the Crystal Ball Six Sigma Partner Program. "With over 60 consulting firms enrolled in the Crystal Ball Six Sigma Partner Program, we're not only assisting partners learn these innovative technologies, but were helping them bring the benefits of simulation and optimization to their customers."
